
FOUR CORNERS '57

"They come . . .

. . . and they go!"

"For no man travels twice
the great highway
that climbs through darkness up to light through night
to day."

The Four Corners

SCARBOROUGH HIGH SCHOOL

Editor's Message

The Editor-in-Chief and the staff of the Four Corners take pride in opening for you the "great highway" of life at Scarborough High School. In this 1957 edition we have printed the record of school life using "highways" as a theme. Come with us as we travel down familiar roads.

Our first highway is the highway of learning. Naturally you will find our faculty here, teachers who have pointed out the fascination of this ever broadening road. Our travels have only begun in this direction.

The main cross section in the Senior's highway comes with the successful completion of four years of high school life. We who are pictured in this section have reached that degree of success. "Success" in the main road of life still lies before us like a beckoning light.

Turn to Underclasses and find the record of achievement. You need only look at the pictures and read the comments to see that each year is a year of growth, of progress, and "achievement."

Any trip along a highway becomes hum-drum without "enjoyment," so we have included the fun we have had in club meetings, at dances, in plays, and other activities that have made our trip truly enjoyable.

Youth wants "action." Sports typify action to us. Look at our trackmen in the race, our basketball players in the game, our cheerleaders supporting the team! Surely our highway has been a busy highway.

Of course, as seniors, we realize that life itself is the kind of highway we build for ourselves. It can carry us from "dark to light, from night to day" and include our learning, success, achievement, enjoyment, and action.

We hope that with our signposts as guides, you will find this book a "super" highway.

A TEACHER'S HEART

"I know this book or that by heart,"
In teaching we have often said.
We meant, of course, we know the book by head.
Miss Storey really knows each child by heart;
For teaching is to her the loving art.
To stinging words in temper said
She listens not, but hears instead
The heartbeat of a frightened child
By frustration and despair made wild.
She reads his heart and sees his need
And answers it—not by word or deed—
But by a quiet magic all her own
She makes belong the child who was alone.
I thought to say she has a mother's heart,
But Mabel has her own, a Teachers' heart;
For mothers love within their narrow scope;
But Mabel's heart has ample room and hope
For the child who walks unnoticed and alone.
In Mabel's room he somehow rose and shone
And reached a stature hitherto not gained;
A feeling for the human race attained.
But Mabel's guiding love is a two-edged oar;
To the child who has too much, she gives no more;
Or rather gives to him the gift more rare,
By teaching that he who richly has must share;
That humbleness is beauty's highest role;
That clothes or brains are not the fabric of a soul;
That he who rides with undue pomp and pride,
Had best get down awhile and share the ride.
When passing sometime, see how Mabel's garden grows;
It's certainly not in even patterned rows.
She gives expensive seedlings no more care
Than struggling little scrubs that just grow there.
In fact she picks the taller, prouder one
To give the scrubby plant more sun.

No, Mabel's love is not a Mother's love;
It's something larger, far above,
That reaches out to every Mother's child,
Whether carefully nurtured or just grown wild,
And keeps him from being trampled in the sod
And shows him how to lift his head to God.

With deepest love and respect
The Class of 1957

MABEL F. STOREY

Principal's Message

Mr. Knowlen, "Industry needs boys like you."

When students of high school age reach this point in their journey along the broad highway of life, they are more or less prone to disregard some of the more important guide-posts established for their use in reaching their desired destination.

They seem to have the philosophy of the Smoky Mountain youth who had been lost and when found said, "If I were educated, I could have read the signs and then I would have known where to go." Unlike this boy who had very meager opportunities for learning, we should determine here and now that reading the sign is a means of becoming educated rather than being educated in order to follow directions.

Your school, through its exploratory opportunities and its guidance, can enable you to read the signs along the way that you may choose the right direction to travel. Be alert and on the lookout for any means of guidance that can help you. It's a waste of time to get lost and have to find your way back onto the right road.

Our faculty is the white line on our "great highway" guiding us through the fog of ignorance to the broader road of understanding. Let's see them throughout the day.

7:15—It's early morning, but we find Mrs. Libbey on the job, convincingly recommending "the best" in reading from our own beautiful library.

8:00—Mrs. Lary, our version of Confucius, with head chock-full of wisdom, advises a senior English student to " 'Think on these things'—then write."

8:30—In the shop Mr. Hallett smilingly approves the crystal radio set made by a student in advanced electricity.

Faculty

9:00—Our life becomes richer when we realize the wonders of the world of nature as Mr. Libby discusses them with us in science.

9:30—Miss Ferguson encourages sophomores to increase vocabulary through Digest Word Study.

10:00—In the spacious Home Economics room Mrs. McMackin demonstrates that life's road becomes smoother when poise and social grace have been achieved.

11:00—Mr. Bragdon points out that just as a driver must know the rules of the road, the student must know the rules of Geometry.

11:30—"All right, class, in scientific measurement," says Mr. Southworth, "accuracy is basic." He illustrates this with a gramweight experiment.

Faculty

12:30—Miss Thorndike, caught in a rare moment outside the gym, teaches the Six Per Cent Method to an attentive Junior Business Class.

1:00—Mrs. Jackson, with the aid of her French records, gives her class an accurate account of the life and language of gay Paris.

We, the class of 1957, wish to express our gratitude to Mrs. Mary Lyon, our former Music Director, for the many enjoyable hours we have spent under her direction during the past three years.

Senior Class Officers

The first week in September seniors chose their class officers and Student Council representatives. Archie's winning personality and fair judgment gave him our presidency. A strong second, Arlo is ready to stand in as "veep." Joanne, who had proved her worth as secretary, was re-elected for the fourth year. Seniors agreed on Galen as the best choice for treasurer—accurate and dependable.

Class

These Junior boys show how a study hall should be used.

Our class has traveled a straight, well-defined road in our three years at Scarborough High. We are well known for our individual and class achievements in such fields as sports, music, speaking, science, and many have made the honor roll. In one more year, with the help of our teachers, we hope to achieve that which will serve as a lasting reminder of our years at Scarborough High.

Sophomore

After the flurry of unscrambling class schedules and making sure the freshmen were initiated properly, we sophomores decided to settle down to a long winter's study only to find ourselves swept into the whirlwind of activities that highlight each school year. Being an active class, sophomores are often seen in musical activities, on athletic teams, at club meetings, on detention, at the occupational file, and sometimes even studying. With two down and two to go we'll find the road ahead lighted by the bright promise of a shining future at S.H.S. and beyond . . .

We've given the Freshmen a rough day, and now we will show them how nice we can be. "Take your cotton pickin' foot off that paper!"

The Freshmen Reception and Dance, the first social event of the year, gave both students and parents a chance to get acquainted. Sophomores sent invitations to all frosh parents and prepared refreshments for three hundred, parents, kids, and faculty.

At 8:30 we dragged the timid freshmen through the receiving line; then on to the grand march, and "rocked and rolled 'til early, early light."

Freshman

Initiation day came all too soon and before we knew it we were dressed as Indians. We bowed, crawled in the hall, and even sang "Davy Crockett," much to the enjoyment of the upperclassmen. Our day had a pleasant end though; we had fun at the Freshman Dance and went home already planning new ways to make the lives of next year's Freshmen miserable.

Indians are initiated!

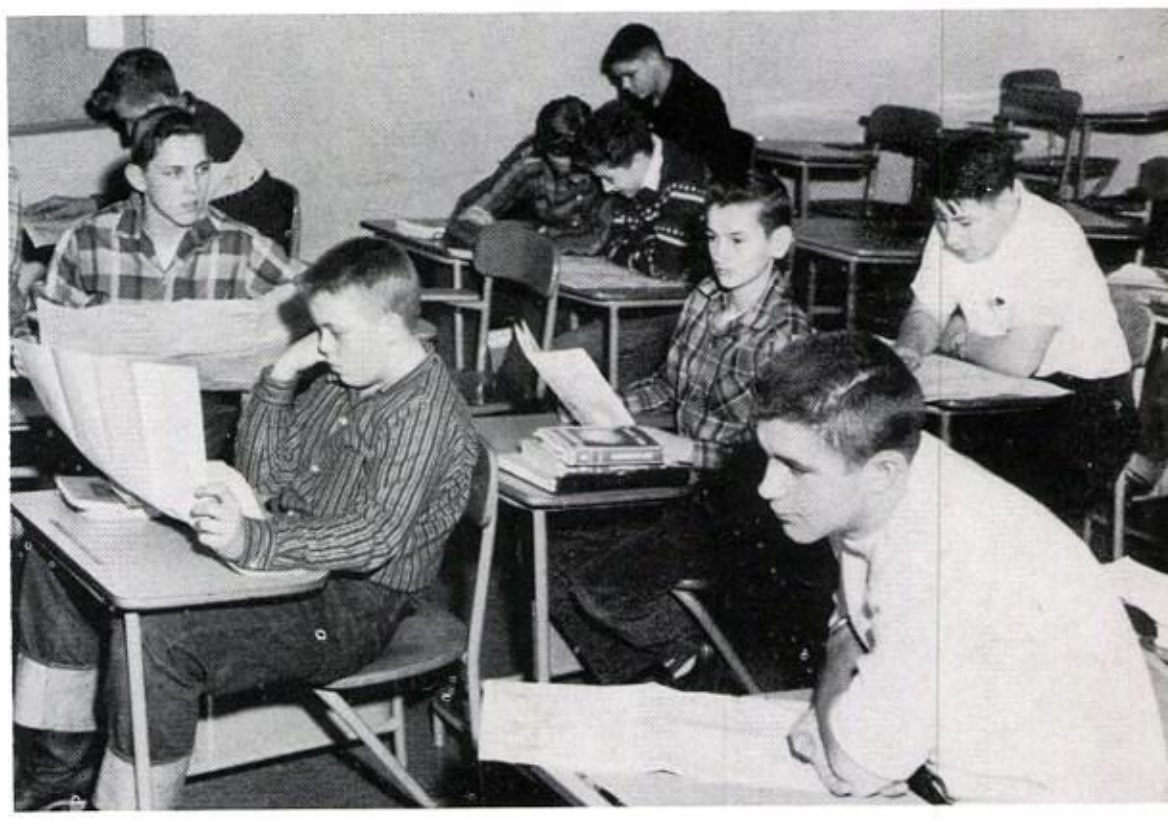
Class

We all know that before school ends for us, we'll all have left significant signposts in S.H.S. history. Some of us have already begun to distinguish ourselves in athletics and on the honor roll. We're all proud that 50% of the J.V. Cheerleaders are Freshmen. All our boys who are in sports do a swell job, but we're able to say we have a basketball player who has played with the Varsity. Our honor students please us too, and before we leave, we'll all try to do as well as they have so far.



"If I make the team, I gotta do it!"

These officers feel like experienced politicians when Freshman Initiation and Reception has passed. Using this experience as a guide, they can really enjoy the planning of their Spring Dance.

Freshman elections are held at a later date than the other classes to give them a chance to become better acquainted with their classmates and high school customs.

Planning board discovers advertising goal has been passed!

June '56—After long debate the theme was chosen, "Highways" Super—we think! If last year's book placed second—our aim will be a "first."

September '56—The periscope staff began typing up statistics on the senior class—"Were you in the track meet? or on the road to 'Broadway'?"

October '56—We tramped the highways, streets, and byways in Scarborough, Westbrook, and Portland. Fifty Scarborough seniors descended on merchants and friends who shelled out, and shell out they did, more than twelve hundred dollars. We're on the road to financial success!

September '56 through February '57—Editors make paths of ink on blank sheets of paper—recording all the events that count along our "road of life at S.H.S." Flash bulbs, films, candids, posed, snapped, developing in the dark room—suspense. They're great! The record is completed—another signpost in the "life of the Four Corners" is ready to be printed—our '57 edition.

Approving dates of activities, raising money, and monitoring the corridors are some of this year's problems. They also attended a council convention in Waterville to get new ideas of school leadership.

Drama

Mrs. Lary was assisted with make-up by Linwood Dyer, Miss Ferguson, and Mrs. Jackson, who worked fast and furiously to transform us into A. A. Milne's characters by eight o'clock. The patient and skillful direction of Mrs. Lary, the music of the band, and the attention and enthusiasm of the audience made our play a success.

Music

Without an appreciation of music the highway of life is barren. The music program at Scarborough High School gives a student a chance to make use of his ability by singing or playing a musical instrument in one of the school's various musical organizations.

The all-girl a cappella choir has already gained recognition as being one of the outstanding vocal organizations in the state. It is my intention to make the band as prominent as our choir and athletic teams. Our goal is to compete successfully with the class L schools.

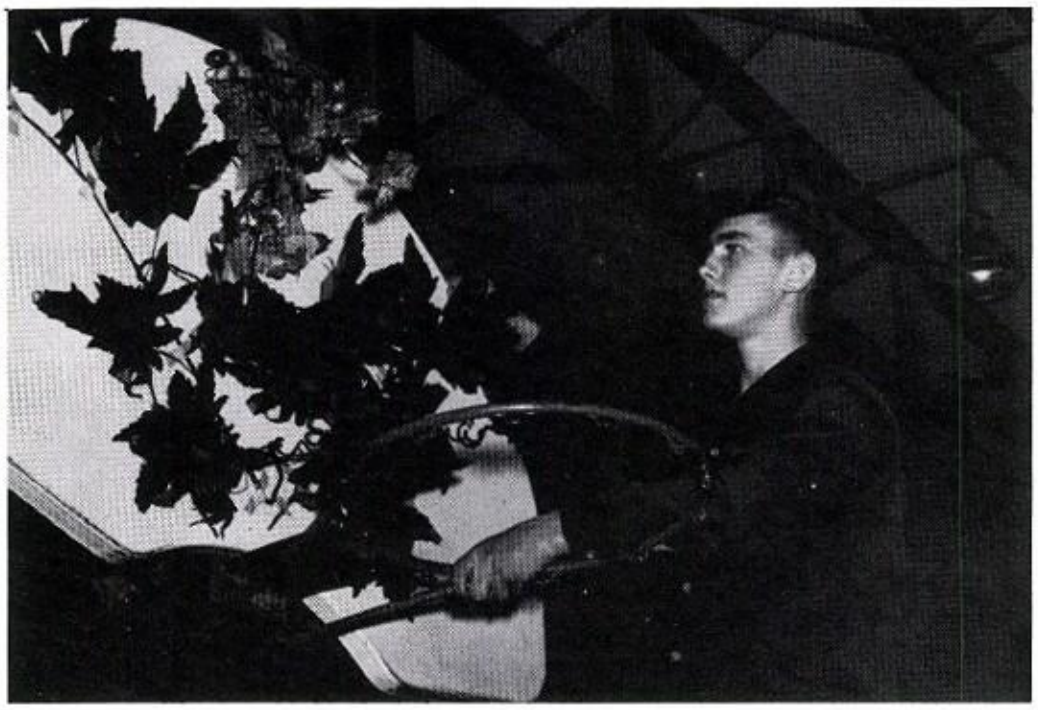
September rolls around and here we see an attentive faculty as they receive last minute instructions from Mr. Knowlen concerning the school year.

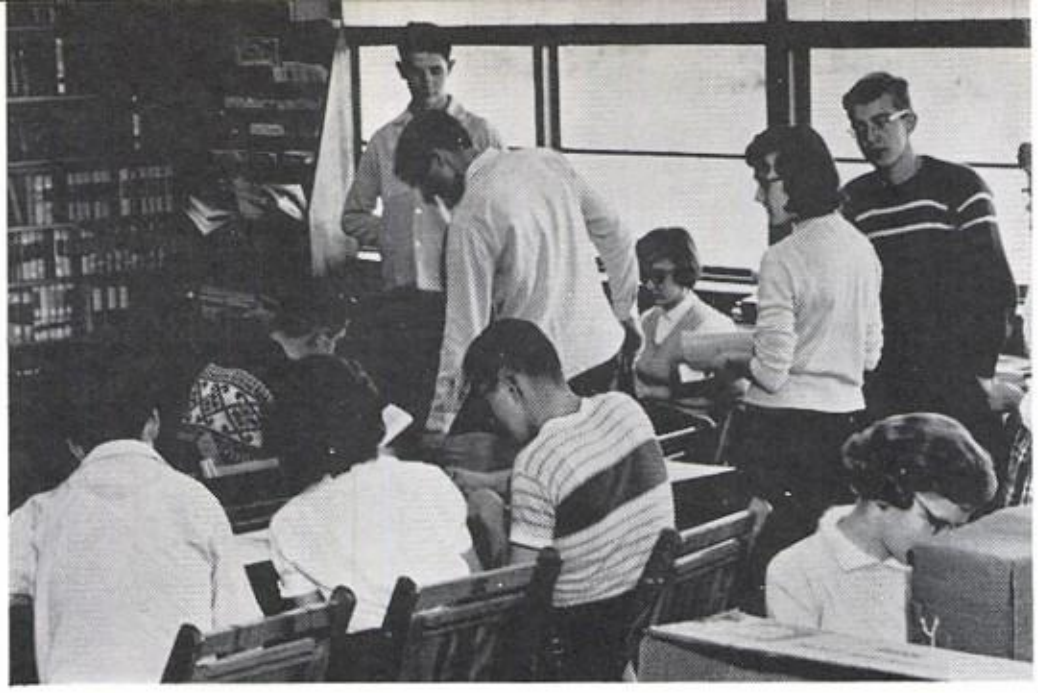
Calendar

In a September assembly, Arlo Pike, one of the representatives to Boys' State describes his journey to the University of Maine. Other events of the summer covered in this assembly included Girls' State and George Bennett's second trip to Detroit as a regional winner of the Fisher Body Award for excellence in designing and craftsmanship.

As the Autumn leaves begin to fall, Sophomores give last minute instructions to Delmont. "Move those leaves a little to the left, Del, we want the gym to look just right for this Freshman Dance."



Here we see a variety of students thoroughly enjoying themselves at the Freshman Reception and Dance. The music was furnished by Mr. Doane and his music makers.

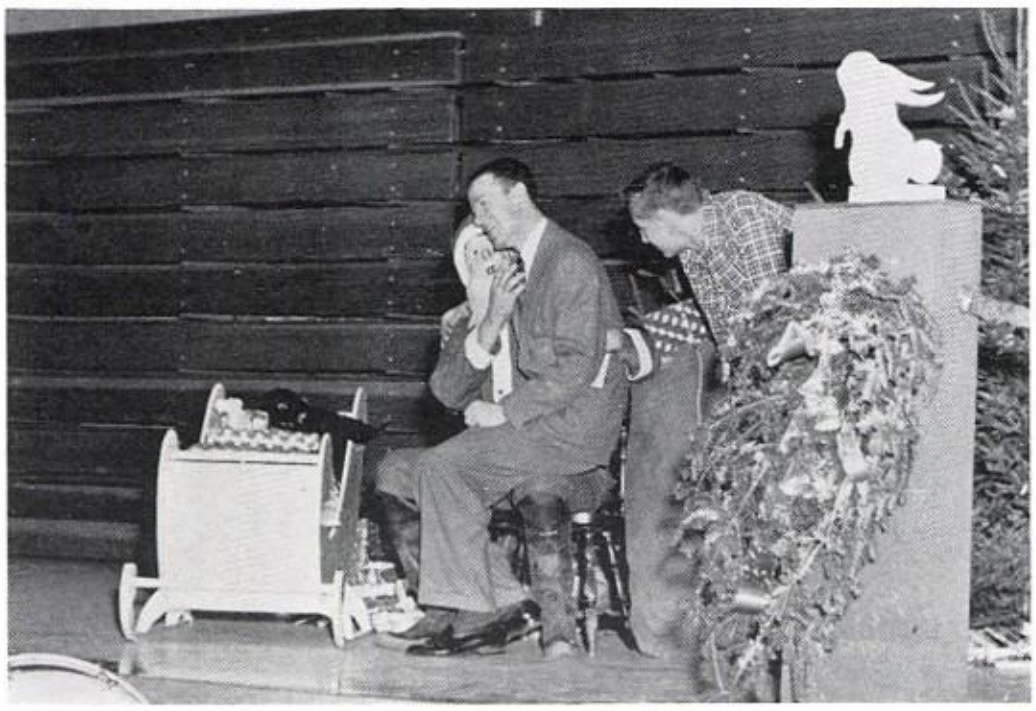


During November we, like all other conscientious Americans, cast our votes in our home made Australian ballot booths.

Ike won here, too!

of Events

Our corridor was rather crowded when over 300 people gathered under the leadership of Mrs. Libbey and Mrs. Lary to sing Christmas Carols on the morning of our Christmas celebration.



Mr. Doane and Mrs. Heyward, along with fifty children under five years, confided in Santa during Christmas assembly.

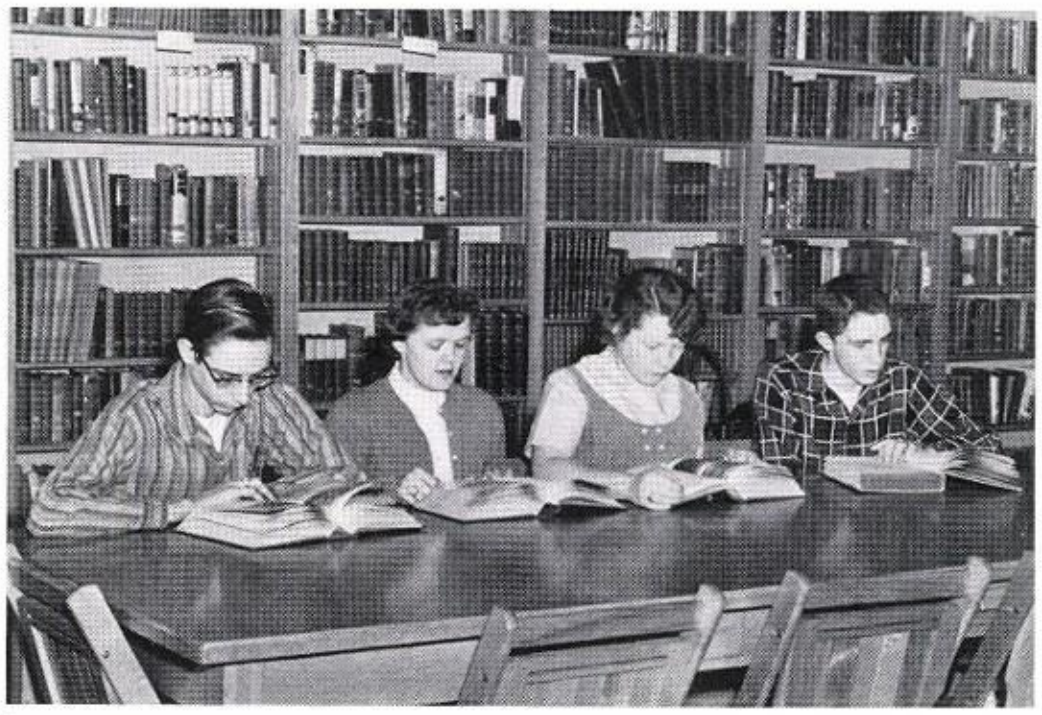
While Santa unloaded his pack his helpers on the Student Council passed out presents from under the tree.

Merry Christmas!

After the energy consuming Grand March, which begins our most important formal of the school year, we relax to the soothing strains of a Paul Smith waltz.

The climax of our Confetti Ball arrives at 11:45 when dancers are buried in colorful confetti. The Confetti Waltz lasts until midnight and ends the one big dance which we have planned for months.

Here are pictured the four students from the Senior Class, G. Huff, G. Skillings, R. Hughes, and R. Harvey, who have been on the Honor Roll for fourteen consecutive ranking periods. To qualify a student must maintain an average of 85 or better in four subjects.



S-C-A-R-B-O-R-O-U-G-H! Rah! Rah! Rah! These are the Varsity basketball players cheering Scarborough on to victory in our Color Day assembly. The Varsity Cheerleaders took over the boys' duties and successfully scalped Cape with the help of our referees Mr. Doane and Mr. Southworth who were influenced greatly by the big, strong "cheerleaders."

Principal Milton Knowlen crowns the Scarborough High School March of Dimes Queen, Joanne Googins. She was chosen by the student body in a "Give To The March of Dimes" campaign. The campaign was managed by Thomas Henley and Joyce Thompson.

TRIPLE "C" MEET RESULTS

Scarborough—44 Cape Elizabeth—43 Falmouth—33 Greely—15 Gorham—8

Scarborough is grateful for an exceptional track team. The trophy for first place in Triple "C" competition, among other victories and individual honors, such as medals and ribbons are notable signs of its power and balance. The trophy was gained through the outstanding performances of such members as Albie Harmon and Hans Eichhorn. Both of them were very dependable point winners at every meet. Harmon won a gold medal in the 100 yard dash at the state meet while Hans was always strong competition in the shot put and could be counted on for necessary points. Other dependables William LeTarte, William Fogg, and Fred Bayley put in commendable performances in the high jump, javelin and discus respectively. But make no mistake, everyone who participated was indispensable, and the loss of any would have meant defeat. Our special thanks to coach Bob Southworth who tutored every member with endless patience and helpful pointers.

Baseball

Coach Robert Schaare's baseball players produced a record to be desired by any school. Bruce Thurlow, Arlo Pike, and Ray Smith were the big guns in helping us to attain our 8 won and 3 lost record. Ray's batting average was exceptional and Arlo ran a close second in making our opponents "shake in their shoes." Bruce, pitching with the potential power of a big leaguer, was the mainstay of our defense.

The ability of these three, together with the teamwork and support furnished by the rest of the team, made our record possible.

"Out!"

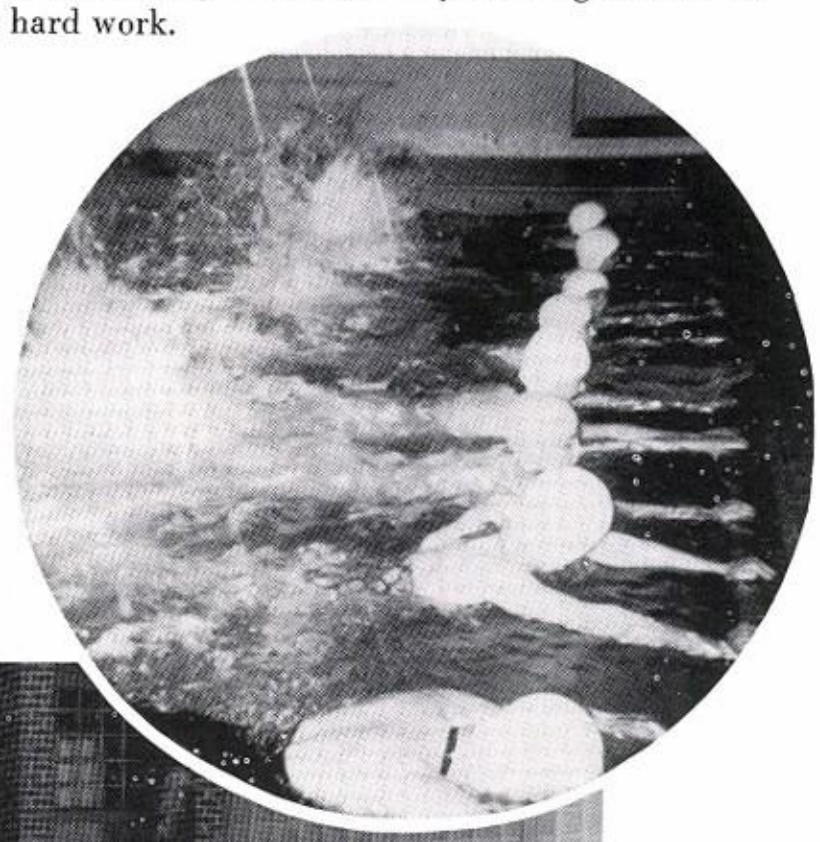
Soccer

The soccer team played six games this season. Two each with Gorham, N.Y.A., and Falmouth. The two games we won were with Falmouth and N.Y.A. The newcomers, B. Fogg, R. Harvey, P. Gosselin, D. Googins, and D. Libby were of great value. Gosselin, Googins, and Libby, along with the great number of freshmen, should make the future seasons good. Outstanding Frosh were: D. Jordan, C. Libby, C. Moulton, R. Vickerson, R. Lunt, W. Betts, P. Burnham, and R. McCullough. To these boys must go credit for their hard work.



Girls' Swimming

The girls' swimming team meets every Thursday from 4 to 5 at the Y.M.C.A. for practice. The two groups, the swim team and the beginners, share the pool. We are all practicing for the spring meet, for Southwestern Maine, for all the schools in this area, which takes place in March.

Bowling Club

The Scarborough Bowling Club meets every Tuesday at the "Big 20" Bowling Alley. Under the guidance of Mr. Libby, they strive to attain high scores like those of President Matt Hodgdon by bowling at least three strings each session. Marksmanship is improved and a good time is had by all.

Rifle Club

Monday and Thursday afternoons, the Rifle club works to improve the self-control and marksmanship of its members. Our range now boasts a new all-metal backboard. After five or six meets each year, letters are awarded, and the real "Davy Crocketts" receive special plaques or trophies.

Varsity Basketball and Cheering

Members of our varsity team, under the capable coaching of Mr. Schaare, turned in some of the best games we've seen in recent years. The high points of the season came in the games with the Capers and the Freeport Falcons, which we lost by narrow margins.

Although graduation will take its toll, veterans Roe and Douglas supported by promising J.V. players will be ready for the '57-'58 season. Good Luck!

Girls' Basketball

Many hours of practice brought forth a girls' basketball team to be proud of. Even though they finished with a losing season in the "won and lost" figures, they had a very successful season in good sportsmanship and teamwork. A vote of confidence and appreciation goes to Miss Thorndike for producing such a fine team.
